1. Subject

At the event named above, the organizer uses the TextSpur service to provide accessible live captions. Contributions are transcribed in real time by automatic speech recognition, regardless of the language spoken, and shown to the audience as captions. Participants can additionally have the text machine-translated into other languages or rendered in Plain Language (Einfache Sprache).

2. Nature and scope of processing

- The audio stream of the contribution and the resulting text are processed. No audio recording is made.
- Processing is automated, using AI services on servers in the EU. The text is not reviewed manually; recognition errors are possible.
- With separate consent, the text is stored as a transcript and made available to the organizer for documentation. Storage ends when the organizer deletes it, no later than _____.

3. Special categories of personal data

This consent expressly extends to information on health, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs and comparable data, insofar as the contribution contains such information (Art. 9(2)(a) GDPR).

4. Voluntary consent and withdrawal

Consent is voluntary. If it is not given, the contribution takes place without captions; no disadvantages arise. Consent may be withdrawn at any time with effect for the future by notifying the organizer. In that case, any transcript of the contribution already stored will be deleted.

5. Controller and rights

The organizer is the controller; TextSpur acts as processor (Art. 28 GDPR). You have the right of access, rectification, erasure, restriction of processing and data portability, and the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority (Arts. 15 to 20 and 77 GDPR).

☐ I consent to the live captioning of my contribution, including machine translation and rendering in Plain Language.

☐ I additionally consent to my contribution being stored as a transcript.
